Dear Neil

Sincere apologies for not writing sooner to congratulate you and your team on a job well done, but since moving in, we have had a "million and one" things to do.

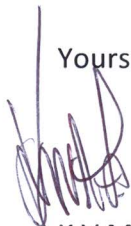

We do not want your efforts though to go unrecognised because, without exaggeration, every one of your team stepped up to the plate and undertook their tasks with professionalism, courtesy and pride.

We chose Woodman because we felt you were "like us", a small professional business that cares about the customer, pays attention to detail and understands the significance of the project to the client . You delivered in all respects and perfectly on time. What's more, the end of job snags – and there few of them – were attended to quickly and efficiently making the whole process of moving a lot easier than we were expecting. In fact, what was daunting ended up being relatively painless.

The end result is a home we are immensely proud of and one we would be pleased to show to any prospective client to Woodman, should the need arise.

Please extend our sincere gratitude to all involved.

Yours sincerely

K V Mash
Sales and Marketing Director
